

LPW TRUCKWASH APPOINTS NATIONAL SALES OPERATIONS MANAGER
AS PART OF PLANS TO GROW THE BUSINESS

LPW Truckwash, which operates the UK's only dedicated network of truck wash sites, has appointed Neil Charnock as National Operations Manager.

In his new role Neil will be responsible for developing business sales and helping to grow the Truckwash national network.

The 45-year-old, who lives in Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, has an extensive background in management.

For the last 13 years he has worked at CdMR Purfleet in Essex where he held a number of roles. Vehicle Enhancement and PDI Project Manager was the main role for a ten year period. In that role he was responsible for overseeing the daily operations and development of all of the firm's UK centres, reporting directly to CdMR's Managing Director. Neil also spent a three-year period within operations management for the terminal and ro-ro terminal operations.

Neil's appointment comes at the height of ambitious plans by LPW Truckwash to expand its number of truck wash sites at motorway service areas in Britain to 50 by the end of next year.

In the long term the firm is aiming to open a site at every motorway service station in the country.

Neil said: "I am delighted to be appointed as National Operations Manager with LPW Truckwash.

"The firm has an excellent reputation for its innovation and ambition and I look forward to helping Chairman Laurie Moon and his team to take the business forward."

Neil is married and has two children.
